Weymouth Nov 5. 1838.

Dear Maria,

I write at Ma's request, in order to make you an offer which she wishes you to submit to Henry and by no means to think of accepting unless it meets his perfect approbation. It is simply this. If you will keep Warren with you this winter, she will take charge of little Henry through the winter, and he can go to Mr Gapstills school with Lucia & Emma. Warren can have the shy parlour and we will see to his washing. I have mention-ed the plan to him and he likes it if you & Henry do, & promises to be conformed to your hours of day & night. Little Henry is very well & flourishing, his cheeks growing red & he very good natured.

I received no bundle by his field as I had expected, but hope to hear from you to night. I send with this a letter to A.E. Weld which you are at liberty to read, & if there be any thing in it you especially dis approve I will not send it, but otherwise you can carry it, & let Debora if she ever returns, carry it to the office. There is a garment of yours here that will come the next chance, as he was going to Mr Tyler's as soon as he arrived I thought it best not to send it now.

I have read H. Ware's sermon on the personality of God, & think it every word true.
